

MEDIA ALERT

Free Family Day:

“Investigating Color” at Carnegie Art Museum

Image caption (far right): Blue Orange 1- S6060 (Blue Deep), Present Tense Series, oil on canvas by Ruth Pastine, 2015.

WHO & WHAT:

(Oxnard, CA - April 9, 2015) The Carnegie Art Museum (CAM) will host Free Family Day. Celebrate the art and science of color with activities taking place throughout the Carnegie Art Museum and CAM Studio Gallery. Children and adults can experiment with two art engagement projects inspired by the current exhibition on view Ruth Pastine: Present Tense. Projects will explore color and techniques of American artist Georgia O’Keefe. The event will also include art and science discovery interactives and an art detective color quest.

WHEN:

Saturday, May 2, 2015

11:00 am - 2:00 pm

WHERE:

Carnegie Art Museum

424 South C Street
Oxnard, CA 93030

CAM Studio Gallery (adjacent to museum facing Plaza Park)

329 N. Fifth Street
Oxnard, CA 93030

HOW:

FREE / no reservations required.

Press Contact: info@carnegieam.org | 805.385.8158

Connect with CAM:

@carnegieartmuse #CAMsmARTphoto